Keynote Speakers

John Koenig

An instructor at the University of Washington's Jackson School of International Studies, teaching courses on American foreign policy, transatlantic relations, European studies and security policy. He retired in 2015 after more than three decades in the U.S. Foreign Service, having spent the last 20 years in Europe. His last post was as U.S. Ambassador to Cyprus, where he brokered the agreement to launch the latest round of UN-sponsored settlement negotiations. He previously served as Political Advisor to the NATO Joint Forces Command in Naples, Italy, which oversaw Alliance operations in the Mediterranean and Balkans; as Deputy Chief of Mission in Berlin, Germany, during the German EU and G8 presidencies; and as Deputy Permanent Representative to the U.S. Mission at NATO, as the Alliance expanded its Afghanistan operations and intensified outreach to the Middle East. In 2011, he received the Presidential Distinguished Service Award in recognition of the policy and leadership roles he played in Berlin and at USNATO.

Dow Constantine

A fourth generation Washingtonian and life-long resident of King County, Executive Dow Constantine is a proven leader, regional problem solver, and effective advocate for our families and communities. Throughout his service in the Legislature, on the King County Council, and as King County Executive, Dow has consistently fought for and delivered transportation solutions, environmental conservation, public health and safety, fairness, and government efficiency and accountability. Dow was born and raised in West Seattle. Dow has been recognized regionally and nationally for his leadership in reforming government, defending the rights of women and the LGBTQ community, promoting health, child development, and cultural vibrancy, and protecting our air, water and climate.

Conference Policies

Technology Policy

At the beginning of the conference, all delegates will receive USB storage drives containing, among other items, committee-specific documents, Rules of Procedure specifications, and the Delegate Handbook. In order to fully experience KINGMUN, delegates are strongly urged to bring personal computing devices capable of accessing the storage drive. The use of phones is not permitted during committee session.

Code of Conduct

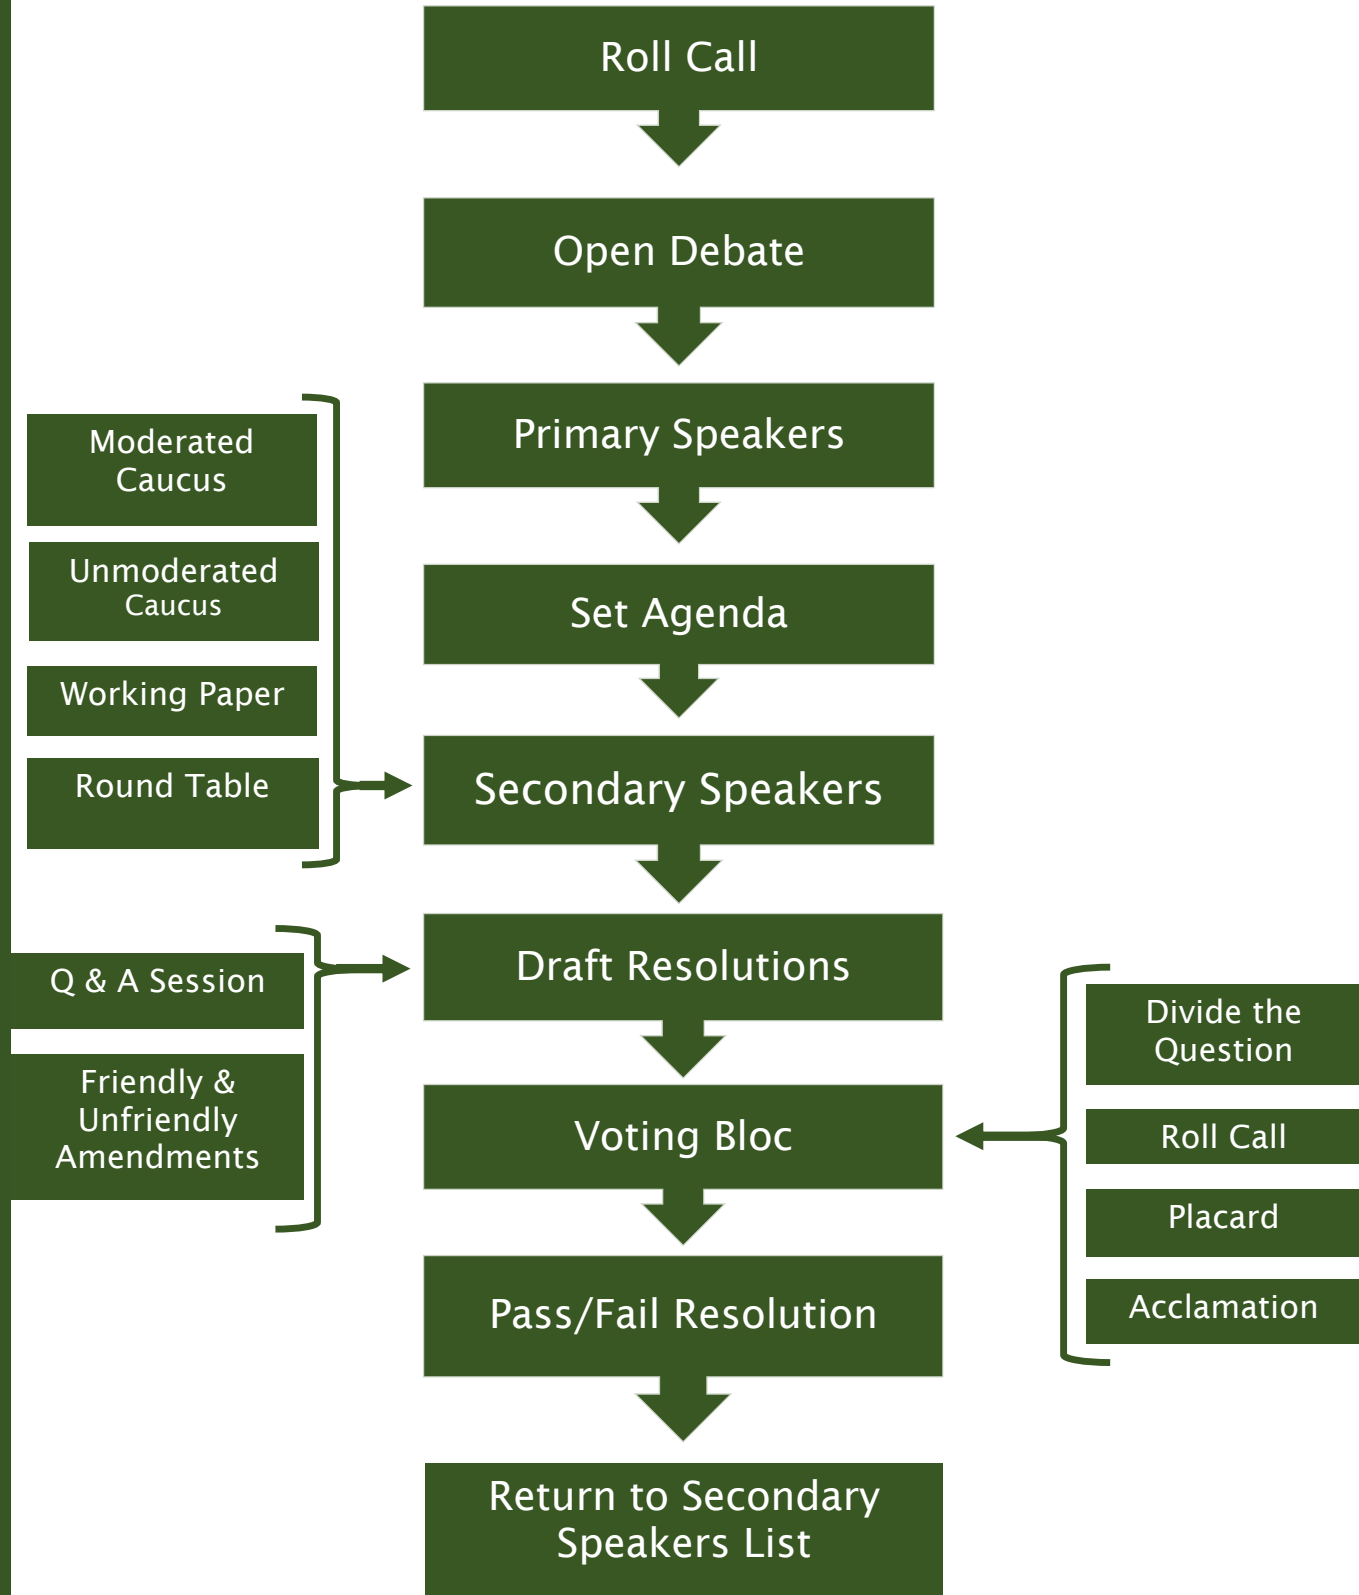

During the KINGMUN conference, all delegates will be expected to be respectful of each other and the staff. There will be zero tolerance for obnoxious or rude behavior. KINGMUN takes place in a drug, alcohol, and tobacco-free environment. Bringing any of these substances is punishable by expulsion from the conference. All delegates are expected to be punctual and prepared. KINGMUN encourages all delegates to participate actively.

Dress Code

All delegates must wear Western business attire. For male delegates this includes a dress shirt, dress pants, and a tie. Female delegates may choose from a wider array of clothing, provided that they project a professional image. Both sexes are encouraged, but not required, to wear a business jacket. Delegates who do not abide by the dress code may be asked to change and be suspended from the conference until they dress appropriately.
